

Professor Tony Cunningham

MBBS, B. Med. Sci. (Hons), MD, FRACP, FRCPA, FASM

Professor Tony Cunningham is Director of Westmead Millennium Institute and Research Centre, Westmead Hospital and Professor of Research Medicine and Sub-Dean (research) of Western Clinical School, the University of Sydney.

Professor Cunningham has worked in the field of virology and infectious diseases for many years, holding a number of clinical and academic appointments in Australia and in the United States.

His research interests focus on viral medicine, especially basic biology pathogenesis, seroepidemiology, diagnosis and anti-viral treatment of HIV and herpes virus infections. He has particular clinical research interests in the epidemiology of HSV-2 and the development of new antivirals and vaccines for genital herpes.

ends#

To coordinate an interview with Professor Tony Cunningham, please contact Kirsten Bruce or Michaela Patton from VIVA! Communications on 02 9884 9011 or 0401 717 566 / 0423 877 748.